2-13-59 Eight Retired City Employees Are Honored

Eight city employees who retired during 1958 were honored in a dinner last night at the Aptos Beach inn by grateful city hall officials and their fellow workers.

A crowd of more than 100 attended as service pins were awarded to other employees with long service records.

Greetings to the group came from Mayor Adrian Jensen and City Manager Pete Tedesco.

Employees who went on the retired list included: Roy Churchill of the police department, Former Assistant Chief of Police Ben Krupp, Park Maintenance-man Clyde Stout, City Hall Gardener Al Verlinde, Water Department Leadman Andrew Pinelli, Chief Water Plant Operator Antone Rosa, Maintenance-man David Flodin and Equipment Operator John Maroni.

Krupp and Pinelli were tied at 24 years for the most service with the city. Pinelli came to work in 1930 and had a four-year break in service. Krupp's record began in 1934 and was continuous until January, 1958.

Other employees honored with service pins were Rudolph Eckerson of the police department who, in 25 years with the city, has never missed a day or been late for work, the city clerk's office reports.

Albert Achterberg and Howard Carney completed 20 years service; Lowell Burris, Edwin Neal and Paul Schlumpf ended 15.

Moving past the 10-year mark were: Tony Bell, Gordon Finch, Frank Hass, Richard Overton, Leon Rodriguez, Nick Sapone, Dorothy Davis, William Grace, John Hollwager, Richard Rausch and Alexander Russell.

Completing five years service were: Gino Bandini, George Disbrow, Doyce Durbin, Jack Mannas, Earl Pracht, Manuel Carvalho, Kenneth Doler, Amy Foster, Winifred Moody, Jack Sicola and George James.
