Santa Cruz County will be getting emergency grants totalling $30 million under a plan announced by Gov. George Deukmejian to distribute $122 million in state emergency funds.

The governor yesterday ordered the immediate expenditure of $17 million from the state's emergency reserve account to the seven counties hardest hit by the Oct. 17 earthquake. Santa Cruz County will receive $5 million. Monterey, Alameda and San Francisco counties will each receive $3 million. San Benito, Santa Clara and San Mateo counties will receive $1 million to help pay for earthquake damage.

Deukmejian also notified the Legislature yesterday that he will allocate another $100 million from the state's reserve account to help local government pay for repair or replacement of government facilities and meet their bills for additional overtime, supplies and other earthquake-related costs.

Santa Cruz County will receive $25 million. San Francisco, Alameda and Monterey counties will each receive $15 million, and San Benito, Santa Clara and San Mateo counties, $5 million each.
