Volunteers Sam Blair, left, and Willie Warner, make some of the 40 new beds included in the remodeling project of the Pajaro Rescue Mission dedicated Saturday. In addition to the new dormitory, which brought the mission's capacity up to 64 beds, the remodeling included a larger dining room, kitchen, room for the handicapped and a chapel. Other improvements provided showers, storage, clothing room and an office. The Pajaro Rescue Mission provides food, clothes, shelter and counseling to homeless men, with a goal toward helping them return to productive lives. The mission also provides food, clothes, household items and furniture to needy families in the community. More than 50 local organizations, businesses and individuals contributed to the project.
