

It's Official--Loch Lomond

Mrs. Wes Hopper of Ben Lomond pours original Loch Lomond water to christen Newell creek dam's Loch Lomond. The ceremonies yesterday, attended by several hundred persons, were a highlight of Ben Lomond Scottish festival. Mrs. Hopper did historical research on Loch Lomond and helped persuade Santa Cruz city council members to approve the name. At left is Mrs. Robert Nolan of Ben Lomond, general chairman of the Ben Lomond Scottish atmosphere movement. Kilted for the ceremonies are Vince Locatelli, San Lorenzo Valley supervisor, and Santa Cruz Mayor John McBain. The festival, which workers declared to be a huge success, wound up yesterday with the christening ceremonies, Scottish entertainment programs at the recreation square, and parading bagpipers, including the City of San Francisco Police and San Francisco Boy Scout troop 90 pipe bands and representatives of the Aerojet Nimbus Highland pipe band of Sacramento. Other photos are on page 7.
