Young war protesters

Kurt Ellison and Mike McCollum

Calls for peace

Students from Soquel High School march down Soquel Drive toward Santa Cruz yesterday morning, left. Along the way, they were joined by Harbor High and Santa Cruz High students and the entire group gathered at the Town Clock, then went to the Farmer's Market site downtown to show their solidarity with the war protesters who gathered there and chanted anti-war slogans and listened to anti-war speeches during the night. James Hallmarkowitz, of Aptos, above, was among those who participated in the event at Cathcart Street and Pacific Avenue. See stories on pages 1 and 3.
