

Work Under Way At Cabrillo Site

Heavy equipment claws away at the sloping hillside from which will rise the section of the new Cabrillo college site.

between Aptos and Soquel. The photographer took this shot standing on the upper end of the 129-acre site, looking southwest. In the upper half Soquel drive cuts through the site. At right is Salesian college, 6412 Soquel drive. The lower half of the campus which will house the athletic facilities, slopes down and out of the photo to the left. The Caterpillar in the foreground is cutting into the property.