

11/29/59 San Felipe

Old Home To Be Razed

Left, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nakken, 703 Darwin street, went over to 308 Gault street the other day to have one last look at an old house which was being razed. Fifty-three years ago they were married here.

Nakken's folks purchased it in 1904. His father died here in 1921 and his mother in 1931. His father was a painter and Nakken is a retired painter. Above photo shows Nakken's mother, Bertha, and his brother Albert. The home was built almost 90 years ago by Calvin Gault. "We built a chicken house in back. It took us two months. They tore it down in two hours," he said. A new home will rise in its place.

Empire Acres Lots Have Been Sold

The last of the original lots in Empire Acres subdivision was sold last week, according to M. C. Hall. M. C. Hall and Sons began subdividing the 300-acre property several years ago.

This was the first major subdivision on the Empire Grade. It was famous some 80 years ago as a health resort, later becoming famous for a vineyard which produced prize-winning champagne.

Hall also reported that six parcels still remain in the Vista Mar Monte subdivision at the junction of Empire and Ice Cream grades.

firm, went on sale earlier this month and several lots have been sold. The subdivision is at the junction of Graham Hill and Sims roads, facing Pasatiempo golf course.

HICKS RESIDING AT PUTNAM HALL

Wally Hicks, a freshman at the University of California at Berkeley, has just completed a season as tackle on the freshman football team. He is a resident of Putnam hall, a new 210 unit uni-

Wildcat Drilling Resumes Again In SC County

Wildcat drilling in San Mateo county has been revived by La-Brea Oil company which has filed notice of intention to drill Pacheco No. 1 on section 15, SS-5W.

This is in the Purisima creek sector, somewhat down the hill from recent operations of Neaves petroleum developments at South La Honda. The location is practically adjoining the three dry holes drilled in the area.

Legion Planning Christmas Party Friday, Dec. 18

Santa Cruz American Legion Post 64 will hold their annual Christmas party Friday, December 18, at Veterans Memorial Buildmander because of illness of Commander Stanley Mythaler.

The post will be host next Sunday for the 28th district meeting day at the First Christian church. Veterans' groups will take part in the service which commemorates the memory of four chaplains who

CRANSTON TO SPEAK TO BOARD MEMBERS

State Controller Allan Cranston has notified members of the board of supervisors that he will be here next Friday to talk with them about problems facing the