

said. "That abundance has helped to create the kind of good life which so many people enjoy in Buffalo."

ford a new use for coal could run to hundreds of thousands of tons every year, as other plants become operative."

residential and are not asking for a change in zoning.

Richard Dyer, assistant fire

Books On The Move

8-19-66

UCSC
Libraries

The massive work involved in transferring more than 100,000 books to the new library at UCSC is illustrated in this picture, which shows Jim Sullivan wheeling another stack of volumes into the long line that awaits placement in the building. Sullivan is a student helping with the transfer as summertime work. All books and equipment will be in the library, a $2.3-million structure, by mid-September. The library will be in operation September 26 when school begins. Some construction work is not yet completed on the building itself, while a connecting bridge with the main campus is to be built in about a month.