

Historic Houses -

VICTORIAN SANTA CRUZ

Santa Cruz is indeed fortunate in having one of the richest architectural heritages in California. Through a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Santa Cruz Historic Preservation Commission has prepared a package of 26 slides which provides a detailed survey of this architectural heritage. Along with the slides is a booklet prepared by Debbie Stone, which gives a brief explanation of the building architecture and history.

The packets were presented to representatives of the Santa Cruz Public Libraries, the Octagon Museum, University of California Library and the Santa Cruz City school libraries. A complete set is also available in the Public Information Office

CITY COUNCIL

605 COUNCIL BUILDING, 2121 CANTON, SANTA CRUZ, CALIF. 95060
CITY MANAGER

Pictured left to right: Charles Atkins, City Librarian, Debbie Stone; Mayor Sally DiGirolamo; David Heron, University Librarian; Harold Steen, Historic Preservation Commission (seated); Councilwoman Carole DePalma and Councilwoman Charlotte Melville. Not shown in Jean Wenzel, Santa Cruz City Schools. They are reviewing the slides and booklets as presented to them by the Historic Preservation Commission.