

Laughing Sal makes her Boardwalk debut

Boardwalk

6/12/04

SENTINEL STAFF REPORT

✓ SANTA CRUZ Laughing Sal, the Boardwalk's newest attraction, gave passers-by a taste of her rowdy, rambunctious and wild laugh Friday. The 5-foot mannequin originally was part of the San Francisco Playland at the Beach and was built in the early 1930s. Laughing Sal, also known as Laffing Sal, will be on display again today before undergoing restoration work. She will return to the Boardwalk permanently in January.

TOP: Laughing Sal entertains a group of Boardwalk visitors Friday.

RIGHT: Laughing Sal cracks up, to the delight of onlookers.

Bill Lovejoy/Sentinel photos

