

Many Are to Build Homes at Brookdale

Lots Are Going Fast—Sunday Found the Place Teeming With Life—Firm Complimented for Its Management.

BROOKDALE, March 30.—The last week was a busy one here in Brookdale. People have been arriving from all parts of the state. Sunday found the place teeming with life. One might well think, on looking around the station as the trains pulled in, that summer was already here.

Messrs. Dubuils and Parry and their assistants had about all they could attend to. It is due to the perfect management of our real estate firm that all the guests of the day returned to their homes perfectly satisfied with the treatment accorded them. Among those who purchased lots and intend to build immediately are: E. W. Hawley, of San Francisco, on a lot near Clear creek; D. T. Avery, of Oakland; Mrs. T. R. Tortson, of Alameda; J. A. Jansen, of Fruitvale; Joseph Demichelli, of Santa Cruz; Dr. Hodges, of Alameda. Willett Ware, of Santa Cruz, purchased a lot near the fish hatchery, and Miss Adah Cooke, of Los Gatos, will build on Logan way.

Dr. Kate P. Van Orden and Dr. Leander Van Orden, of Alameda, arrived Saturday to spend a few weeks at their Wayside cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maurer, of Alameda, were up over Sunday.

C. Gustafson, master mechanic for the E. B. & A. L. Stone company of San Francisco, arrived Sunday and selected four lots, on which he expects to build a large summer house and garage.

G. A. Dodge, representing the Lenig engineering company of San Francisco, motored up from Santa Cruz Sunday with Fred McPherson. Mr. Dodge, with his family, intends to spend a few months in James Hopper's bungalow.

V. D. Craig was busy Friday hauling pipe for Judge Logan's new water system. The judge tells us that the work will be completed by the latter part of next month.

There is a rumor afloat that Judge Logan is negotiating with the Coast Counties electric light and power company in order to increase the lighting facilities of Brookdale.

An easy trail is to be built up to Flag point, and there a summerhouse will be built so that people can view the beautiful surrounding country at their leisure.

Ground was broken Monday for a double tennis court situated near the Southern Pacific station. The equipment therefor arrived last evening.

A. H. Breed, of Oakland, who spent last week here with a party of friends, said that he hoped to have the concrete swimming tank in the middle of the island completed for the summer use of the island folk.

Mrs. Rothwell Hyde, of San Francisco, is spending this week with her niece, Mrs. H. H. Irwin. Mrs. Hyde is charmed with Brookdale, and is considering buying a few lots here in order to build a summer home.

Miss Neva Bemis, of Santa Cruz, is now on the staff of stenographers in the employ of Dubuis & Parry.

Last, but not least, don't forget that the fishing season opens the 1st, and that is Saturday. And Brookdale is the place!
