

Aptos choices

Aptos Librarian Heidi Jaeger Smith was named Woman of the Year Saturday night by the Aptos Chamber of Commerce. Dick Little, news director for radio station KSCO, was chosen as Man of the Year by the Chamber. Mrs. Smith, who has headed up the branch since its opening in 1975, was honored for her service to the community. Little was cited for his coverage of the January storms. Honored as the community's Organization of the Year was the California Highway Patrol. The Aptos Post, a weekly newspaper, was named business of the year, and defeated Republican Congressional Candidate Gary Richard Arnold was presented the Chamber's "faux pas of the year" award in absentia.
