

Work On St. George Hotel

December practically starts next Monday, and with this start Hamilton & Church start work on the St. George hotel, the exterior receiving their first attention. As numerous and extensive as the internal changes are to be, this popular inn will not close for a day.

The St. George is the largest commercial tavern in this county, and its owners and landlords are resolved that it shall be second to none in its class in this section of the coast. We must have good all-the-year hotels.
