

1980-1989

New home for CHP

Construction is under way on a new home for the Santa Cruz County division of the Highway Patrol. The new facility at Rob Roy Junction will be 8,000 square feet, have a solar hot water system and a special drainage system to protect the endangered Santa Cruz County long-toed salamander, which lives nearby. Covarelli Construction of Hayward is doing the job at a cost of $775,000.

GREEN SHEET
October 15, 1980

REPRINTED