Look, Ma, No Hands—Or Face

Four old faces of Santa Cruz—the four faces of the town clock—stared empty-eyed over the city for the first time since 1898 yesterday, as workmen from Darrow Palmer construction removed the clock parts from the Odd Fellows (IOOF) building. Today the tower itself is coming down as the structure is being remodeled. City Recreation Director Carl Bengston said that the clock will be reassembled and placed back in the tower at the city museum. There it will be available for citizens to see the face of the Santa Cruz of yesterday.
