

Boardwalk Extension Work Progresses

Extra crews of workmen are going full force to get the new boardwalk extension ready by Easter weekend, officials of Santa Cruz Seaside company said yesterday morning. The two new rides to be included in the concrete extension, the "Crazy Caves," a train ride, and the "Freeway Autos," will not be completed for about 60 days, but other rides used in previous years will be relocated and in operation. The project, the biggest since the Casino was built in 1906, came through the recent high waves without any trouble. The concrete seawall slabs are sunk 20 feet into the sand to be able to withstand a heavy pounding.

◇ ◇ ◇

◇ ◇ ◇

Theater And Art News

Aptos Composer To Take Part In East-West Music Encounter

Health Dept. Okayed Plans For Launderette