Calendar Art

This black and white line drawing by Jeff Clark, a Harbor High School student, is reproduced in the Fidelity Savings' 1977 appointment calendar opposite the October page. Some 400,000 copies of the calendar have been distributed statewide. Clark's depiction of the "Grey House," a local Victorian home, was one of 12 winning entries selected in the Fidelity Savings' Art Scholarship competition held throughout California. Both Clark and Harbor High received scholarship awards. Fidelity Savings is the 10th largest publicly owned savings and loan association in the nation, with assets over $1 billion. Gayle Taylor, manager of the Capitola branch, encourages local students to participate in the 1977 competition and said "I'm anticipating another local winner."
