Council Reaffirms Policy On Extension Of Services

City councilmen last night reaffirmed policy against extension of services beyond the city limits. They denied a request for ex-for a park in the San Lorenzo park redevelopment area, according to City Manager Peter Tedesco.

Dr. C. C. Burnett, left, new president of Bethany Bible college, chats with students Ruth Burchett, center, and James Stewart, right. Miss Burchett, from Tracy, was awarded a scholarship for outstanding achievement in both high school and church activities. Stewart has come to Santa Cruz from Witbank, Transvaal, South Africa to attend Bethany. He made the trip with his wife and three children.

New President Of Bethany Bible College Is Installed

Inaugural ceremonies in which Dr. C. C. Burnett was installed as president of Bethany Bible college took place on the Bethany campus today.

Executive director of the Accrediting Association of Bible Colleges, Dr. S. A. Witmer of Fort Wayne, Ind., was guest speaker. Dr. Witmer is one of the country's foremost leaders in Christian education.

Rev. Joseph L. Gerhart, district superintendent of the Assemblies of God, presented the Bible, keys and seal of the college to President Burnett. The charge to the president was made by Rev. Kenneth M. Haystead, chairman of the board of trustees.

Rev. Charles W. H. Scott, assistant general superintendent of the Assemblies of God, offered the inaugural prayer. Dean of Education, L. Thomas Holdcroft gave greetings to the many guests. The benediction was given by Rev. Robert W. Pirtle, secretary of the board of trustees.

Music for the program was under the direction of Rev. Forrest M. Beiser, head of Bethany's music department. The college choir sang "O, For A Thousand Tongues." Rev. and Mrs. Beiser joined in a duet, "There Is A Name."

Dr. Burnett in recent years has made his home in Springfield, Mo., where he served as national secretary of education for the Assemblies of God. In addition to this he has been active as secretary of the National Association of Evangelicals, Assemblies of God representative to the American Bible society in which organization he also served as an officer for 10 years. Since 1956 he has been treasurer of the North American Association of Bible Institutes and Bible Colleges.

President Burnett is a graduate of Central Bible Institute. He graduated cum laude with B.A. from DePaul University and did his graduate work at George Washington university.

He is now making his home in Santa Cruz with his wife, Dorothy and daughters, Barbara, 15, and Marilyn, 8.

The Bethany Bible college presidency was vacated last spring by Rev. Leland R. Keys, now pastor of Bethel church in San Jose.
