

Final Pour On 41st Avenue Overpass

Workmen busily pour and finish concrete decking on the northerly half of the 41st avenue overpass of the Watsonville-Santa Cruz freeway. This phase of the $527,000 41st avenue interchange project is slated for opening by December 1, according to Gerald Sommers, assistant state highway engineer.

◆ ◆ ◆

George Bianchi Construction company of San Jose is subcontractor on the overpass structure. L. C. Smith company of San Mateo is general contractor on the overall project, which will be completed by the first of the year if weather remains good. A frontage road on the south side of the freeway is open to public use.

Chinese Film Actress' Wardrobe Is Fantastic

By James Bacon

(complete with hand-sewn bead