Sandpipers sponsor annual lecture series

Sponsoring its thirteenth annual lecture series is Sandpipers of Children's Home Society, with the first lecture Feb. 7 at 10:30 a.m. at First Congregational Church.

It will feature Doni DeBolt, the daughter of Robert and Dorothy DeBolt, who have gained international fame based on their 20 children — 14 of whom are adopted.

As the only child of Robert DeBolt, Doni, at 10, suddenly gained nine brothers and sisters when her father married their mother, widow Dorothy Atwood, in 1970. Since then, 10 more children, all of them handicapped in some way, have been added to the family.

Doni's talk is entitled "Love, Laughter and Twenty Kids."

After the talk, luncheon will be served to season ticket holders.

On Mar. 7, there will be complimentary coffee at 10 a.m., followed by a talk, "Shakespeare and His Times," by Ron Rebbolz, Stanford English professor. He has written a book about Fulke Grevill, a poet and playwright who was Shakespeare's contemporary and received his Ph.D. from Oxford University.

Final lecture, April 6, will be at the same time and will be presented by George Stuart. The originator of the Historical Figures, he will focus on "The Sun King" in his talk. He will tell little-known facts about the personal lives of the people who shaped the history of their own periods and the present, as well.

Season tickets are $15 and will be available at the first lecture at the door.

Single tickets will be sold at each lecture at the door.

Complimentary child care will be given at all lectures.

For advance tickets, call Barbara Thompson, 423-8569.

All proceeds from the tax-deductible donation will benefit the Children's Home Society, a non-profit agency which works with adoptive parents and children and provides other services, as well.
