New York (AP). — They picked the right ribbon for the job when the press building at the New York 1964-65 World's Fair was dedicated. Used in the ribbon-cutting ceremony was an oversized black and red typewriter ribbon.

A carry-all hauls fill on the uncompleted frontage road along the Santa Cruz-Watsonville freeway, between Park avenue and State Park drive. Work being done will bring an additional 2.87 miles of the highway to full freeway status. The job consists of building frontage roads, bridge structures, and a clover leaf at State Park drive. Granite Construction company and Lou Jones Construction company are partners in the project. The work started last September. Target date for completion is February, 1964.

Concrete piers are being erected to support the freeway bridge over the Park avenue underpass. The bridge being worked on here is for Santa Cruz-bound traffic. This shot was taken from the already completed bridge for Watsonville-bound traffic.
