

Hotel First Floor Changes

With the entire street front of the large billiard room of the St. George Hotel down and out the passersby know where the rearrangement of the named inn was to begin, and when the barber shop and telegraph office are moved therein they will learn more of the other extensive changes that are quickly to take place on the lower floor.