

Capitola

Green Sheet

Capitola, California
Eighth year, No. 70

Wednesday, October 18, 1978
20 Pages, 15 cents

Shaky legs

The Capitola city council met last night to decide the fate of the wharf, which the city could "buy" for $150,000. Cost estimates to repair the pier range up to $1 million. The old bait shop, above, makes a precarious roost for gulls. Underneath broken pilings, and rotting timbers, are evidence of the old wharf's condition.

Photos by Bob Smith

