

Work begins on transit center

Bill Tillery worked at demolishing a skylight yesterday at the old Crocker Bank, soon to be the new Watsonville Transit Center. A groundbreaking ceremony earlier in the morning marked the beginning of the $1.4 million project. Much of the existing building will be demolished before construction actually begins on the new structure. Completion of the project on Rodriguez Street is scheduled for October of this year.

Kurt Ellison

MAR 26 1994