Larkin fire annexation to be reviewed by LAFC

The annexation of 2,250 acres in Larkin Valley into the Freedom Fire Protection District will be discussed by the Local Agency Formation Commission when it meets Wednesday beginning at 9:30 a.m. in Room 525 of the County Center.

The annexation proposal includes all the land between Freedom Boulevard and Highway 1 in Freedom that is not presently served by the Freedom Fire Protection District.

The area, consisting of 300 parcels, has been protected by the state Department of Forestry under contract with the county.

Commissioners also will consider the formation of county service areas for road maintenance in Glenwood Acres north of Scotts Valley and on Hidden Meadow Lane off Lockhart Gulch Road near Scotts Valley.

Commissioners further will consider a request from Scotts Valley City Administrator Bob Rockett and from landowners Jennings Dodrill and Robert Taylor for a waiver from the one-year waiting period for refileing an annexation request.

Dodrill and Taylor, who represents Landmark Baptist Church, want to annex land along Green Hills Road into the city of Scotts Valley. Dodrill's request to annex 96 undeveloped acres and Taylor's request to annex 2.5 undeveloped acres were denied by the commission in June.
