

April 6, 1958

New Community Church Of God

First services in the Community Church of God, 1225 41st avenue, will be held this morning at 11 o'clock with the official dedication scheduled for May 4. The church, built on two acres of ground, was built to serve the growing Opal Cliffs area. The building shown above is the first of three and is the fellowship (recreational) structure. The church is planning extensive youth and adult recreation programs. The church was constructed by C.

E. Stumpf and Sons, while Don Stumpf is secretary of the board of trustees.

The World Today

Ike's Armed Forces Plan Faces Fight

By James Marlow

on the way the three services try to get what they want through

Although many parts of the plan would increase McElroy's