The Mall Receives Scrubbing

Like a mother scrubbing her child for the first day of school, 200 people turned out Saturday to wash the summer's dust and grime from the Santa Cruz Mall. Armed with brooms and buckets they tackled the grime that had settled onto the mall during the long, dry summer. For some, it was not so much a cleaning as a celebration of the things the mall means to them. It was the First Annual Santa Cruz Scrub sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of Downtown Santa Cruz and when it was done the mall looked sparkling and almost pink-cheeked clean.
