

Libranis 1960-69

9-11-66

'What Do I Hear For This Priceless . . .

"And do I hear $7?" shouts Robert Cummings during yesterday's auction of this, that and almost anything at the main city library. Cummings, an employee of the city water department, didn't hear $7, so Mrs. Edna Lewis of Graham Hill road got a slightly cracked bust of Shakespeare for $6. The auction disposed of furnishings and miscellaneous items which are not needed at the temporary Grant school library site or the new city library. Mrs. Geraldine Work said approximately $800 was raked in from the crowds, which milled through the doomed building. The structure is to be attacked by wreckers this week.

Record GOP M

HARD OF HEARING?