Termites In The Steeple

The problem isn't bats in the belfry, but rather termites in the roof. Holy Cross Church is receiving a total fumigation, as the partially-draped church tower demonstrates. A new roof was recently installed on the church, said Sister Lourdes, and the fumigation is designed to prevent the structure from infestation by termites. The work was scheduled to conclude by Friday, but the large structure required an extra day to cover. Sunday services in the church may be rescheduled. Regular services are currently being held in the Mission Chapel. (Sentinel Photo - Pete Amos)
